

I wish that the no call laws in wisconsin would be left alone.
Just because I have had contact with a business, doesn't mean that I want to be harrassed by them after doing so. If I have stopped using their service, it is usually because I don't want it anymore, so why would I want them calling me to try to get me back.